

WHY IS IT?

A continuation of our articles on the reason why some people are poor and have a hard time, and how they can save money and become better off. The easiest money made is in buying. We know of a class of people, and they are many, who when they are asked a price for anything will make and offer much lower than the price asked, and think by so doing they are saving money. They don't know the value of the goods they propose buying. Whether the price they offer is more or less than they are worth. To obtain this class of people, we have always asked two or three times more than value for their wares, and if they only get half or one-third asked, make a good profit. Now these classes of tradesmen and people are well matched, but it does great injury to a large class of people who are just the reverse. Those that want a bargain but will not chaff and few to get it, but wish the price named to be the lowest price that will buy the goods and will be a bargain. The best way to find out how to get a bargain is to know the value of the goods wanted and their lowest market price, but as most people do not have the facilities for such information, the next best thing is to find out the reliable stores—those that sell two classes of goods they advertise, and at the prices named, (but BEWARE of the stores that are just out of the bargain they advertise as it is a scheme to get customers in and sell them something else), as the reliable stores don't advertise goods at prices that do not intend to sell at, but on the contrary, have the goods at the prices, except in some cases the demand is greater than they anticipate, but soon inform their customers of this fact, and either offer a better bargain or something equally as good. We know it is hard for every one to know all the things necessary to outwit the sharper, who takes advantage of the lack of knowledge to increase his gains, but ordinary observation and study will protect anyone so they can know a bargain when offered.

We try to fill the above indications for a reliable Bargain Store, to give the greatest values the market affords, give just what we advertise and advertise just what we have. When we say we are selling an article at 50 cents on the dollar, we mean that to be half the regular prices for the goods named.

We have Men's and Boy's Fur Hats going at 50, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25, our prices. The regular prices are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 for the same goods elsewhere. We have the goods to prove it. When we say that we are selling Ribbons, Laces and Embroideries at away down prices, we mean that no house in the city matches our prices. To prove it, come and see our offerings here, after you see the prices made elsewhere.

250 pieces shirred neck ribbons in plain, striped and plaid, all silk, at 5c a yard. Regular 10c goods.

Thousands of yards of laces at 1c, 2c, 3c and 5c a yard that cost in the factory way 5c, 10c and 15c a yard.

One case of Madras Gingham at 5c per yard; regular 10c quality.

To verify our claims you are requested to call and see goods and compare qualities and prices.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's shoes at prices not made elsewhere for $1.00; we offer 99 pairs that were $2.00 and $2.50 a pair for $1.99. We offer a $2.75 quality ladies' shoe. Every shoe and slippers at bargain prices.

We could name 1000 articles at bargain prices if space would permit, but we prefer you to come and see how much we can save you on your purchases. Make a start if you have not done so to make your money bring you full value every time. We have large stock to select from; 25 departments at

THE STORM AT POMEROY.

The Letters Were Drenched by a Deluge After the Post-Office Roof Had Been Carried Away by the Wind.

POMEROY, O., May 31.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock Monday this city was visited by a cyclone, accompanied by a terrific fall of rain. The damage was all done within the three principal business squares of the city.

The post office building, a three-story brick, was completely unroofed and a flood of water poured into the building. The third floor is a large unused hall, the second floor is occupied by the Democrat newspaper office, while the post office occupied the ground floor. The water played havoc with the newspaper office, flooding the composing room, damaging presses, material, etc., considerably. The post office caught the full benefit of the flood above as it poured through the second floor. The money order department was completely inundated. Through the vigilance of the clerks on duty all books, records and mail matter was removed to the postmaster's private office, and escaped damage. The Skinner Hardware Co.'s building on Front street, a large three-story brick, was unroofed and the stock of hardware and builders' supplies on three floors was saturated, badly damaging almost the entire stock. The Pomeroy National Bank building, on Front and Second streets, also a three-story brick, was badly damaged, the front gable being blown out of line several feet, making the building unsafe for business purposes until the wall can be taken down and rebuilt. Other buildings were slightly damaged and numerous shade trees blown down.

EVEN UP THE SCORE.

Mrs. Potter Palmer's Sharp Retort to the Infanta Eulalie.

Refuses to Attend a Reception in Honor of the Spanish Lady—How Eulalie Enraged Her.

"I'm glad to see that Mrs. Potter Palmer has had a chance at last to get even with that insufferable Infanta Eulalie," said a Chicago woman, who is in the front rank of the local "Four Hundred." "I'm not one of the many Chicago women who bow in adoration to Mrs. Palmer, but I have digested that Spanish woman over about 100 times."

"I remember very well the night Eulalie got off her famous 'dilemma' on Mrs. Palmer, and such supreme rudeness is only possible to royalty. It was at a reception at Mrs. Palmer's house and Eulalie was one of the guests of honor."

The Spanish woman was willing enough to accept Mrs. Palmer's invitation, but when it came time for her to be presented to her hostess she stuck her head in the air and said:

"I prefer not to meet this inkeeper's wife."

"Mrs. Palmer gets even very neatly. Her social position has been bettered exceedingly since the beginning of the world's fair; in fact, this engagement she has arranged between Prince Michael, Countess of Russia, and her niece, Miss Julia, Countess of Russia, the beautiful granddaughter of Gen. Grant, has put her 'in' notch pretty near the top."

"Well, when Sebastian Schlegel, of London, and his daughter, Baroness de Reibnitz, gave a reception in Paris in honor of Eulalie, Mrs. Palmer was invited. She promptly declined, and by way of explanation remarked:

"I cannot meet this infamous representative of a degenerate monarchy. This was as much as to say: 'America has conquered Spain and, besides, it is better to be an American inkeeper's wife than a Spaniard who too freely patronizes the inkeeper's goods.'"

SAIL RIGGED FOR CYCLES.
Invention of an Evanston Editor Said to Be of Value to Knights of the Wheel.

R. O. Vandercok, editor of the Evanston (Ill.) Press, has perfected a bicycle sail rigging which was tested recently with satisfactory results. He will probably patent the invention and put it upon the market. It consists of a rigging similar to an iceberg, having a single upright mast and an arm similar to a bowsprit. These are stationary and the sail is controlled by sheets held in the hand of the rider.

The bowsprit is fastened just above the front fork and extends forward and downward about seven feet in length and within seven inches of the ground. The mast is six feet high. This gives a spread of canvas of something over 15 feet square. This device overcomes the former trouble that was met with in bicycle sails, as it prevents lateral pressure, the weight of the rigging and the pressure of the wind being its low as the weight of the rider.

Mr. Vandercok claims he can use this sail to an advantage in traveling almost any road, with the wind anywhere but dead ahead. Even then he can tack the same as an iceberg. It has a wide bowsprit, so that the wind is blowing at a faster rate than the speed of a cyclist. A man traveling ten miles an hour without the sail when the wind is blowing 20 miles can make the 20 miles an hour without any more effort.

DREYFUS HEARING BEGUN.
Good Prospects of the Prisoner of Devil's Island Receiving a New Trial—Guards Around the Palace of Justice.

PARIS, May 31.—The hearing in the Dreyfus revision case began Monday. An army of guards surrounded the palace of justice, warned by the threatened aspect of the streets, where riots followed the sessions of the courts.

The prospects are very favorable for Dreyfus in receiving a rehearing of the charges brought against him.

The court adjourned at 6:30, when very few of the public yet remained in the vicinity. The republican guards immediately returned to barracks and the cordon of police was dispersed.
